

Molly Johnson

mo11yj.com
me@mo11yj.com

Education

University of Cincinnati
2006-2011
B.S. Digital Design

Hilliard Darby High School
2002-2006

The Important Stuff

Human centered design drives my process from beginning to end. I am fascinated by storytelling and use it to frame a design from the initial concepting phases to final prototyping and production.

I work well on multi-disciplinary teams and love a good challenge. I live for days spent outside, driving fast cars, and curling up with a good book.

I can follow a project from beginning to end. I focus on concepting, interaction design and prototyping, but have experience with graphic and motion design, production, and development.

Professional

Nectarine Group

User Experience Designer, July 2011–Present
Interactive design intern, September 2010–December 2010

Worked as a cross disciplinary designer; followed projects from concepting and interaction design to visual and motion design, and production. I created user centered interfaces for consumer products and mobile devices with a focus on storytelling as an integral part of the design process.

Luxurious Animals

Interactive design intern, April 2010–June 2010

Worked primarily as an AS3 and front end developer focusing on HTML 5, CSS3, and JavaScript for mobile browsers. The quarter increased my knowledge of working on a development team and in a fast paced environment.

Transmissions llc

Interactive design intern, September 2009–December 2009

Responsible interactive and visual design for web applications as well as AS3 and Wordpress development.

Hello Design

Interactive design intern, April 2009–June 2009
Interactive design intern, September 2008–December 2008

Collaborated with visual and interactive designers and developers on large scale website design, production, and QA. Also assisted with front end development and mobile concepting.

Blue Diesel

Interactive design intern, April 2008–June 2008

Primarily responsible for visual ideation around branding and tablet applications. Also assisted with asset production. My first internship, Blue Diesel introduced me to working in a design office.